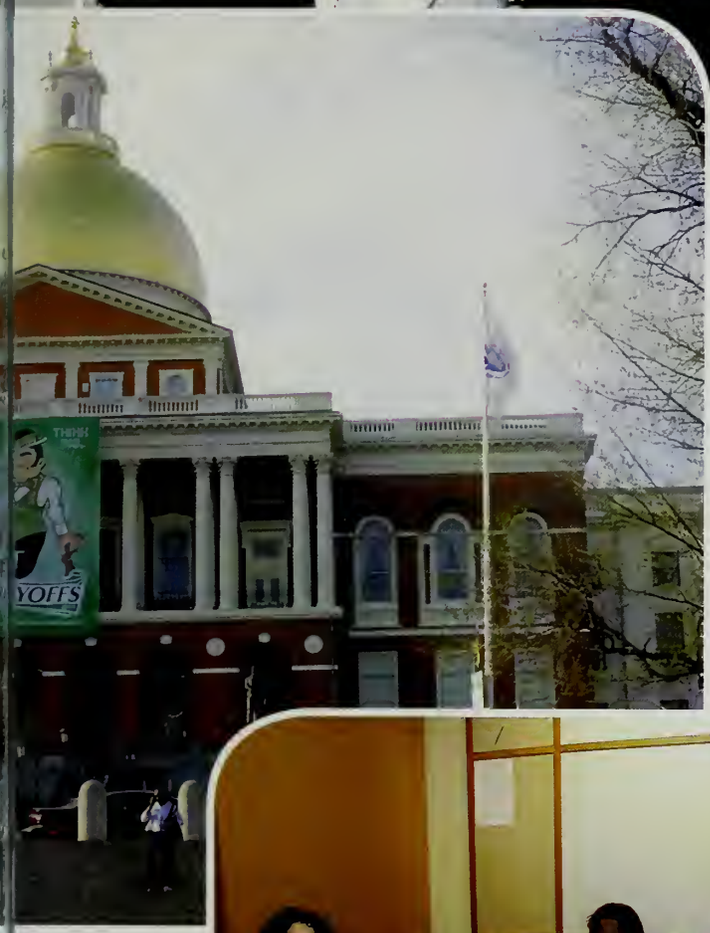
You've been through advising sessions, professor's office hours and still, it seems like it doesn't quite fit together. Why do we put ourselves through this torture? For many of us, we feel that we go to classes, learn and get a grade. What we don't realize is that along the way, we are learning things that we didn't notice. Through lectures and group projects, you find yourself pressured to communicate and take charge if someone else doesn't step up. Suffolk teaches in a more passive way the skills necessary to survive in the real world. Administration and professors are perfect examples of what real leadership is. They have gone through the torturous classes and extreme finals. They have been in your shoes. Now, they are here to guide us and transform us into people ready to tackle the world head-on. Among your peers, there are student leaders who have caught on real quick and have developed these strong leadership skills. But academic leaders aren't the only ones that succeed in this world. For those of you who play sports, it's possible to be a strong athletic leader. After graduating from Suffolk, some will go on to become professional sport players and they will also take those leadership skills with them on the field. Suffolk is about creating students who will be the leaders of tomorrow. Yes, it sounds simple and quite frankly, it is. With all the right leadership skills and communication skills, you will move to the top. The light of success is at the end of the tunnel. But through the guidance of faculty and your peers, you will reach that light and it will be your time to shine.

SUFFOLK UNIVE

To the class of 2008,

You guys have come a long way since entering the new world of college life. All of you have worked hard to walk across that stage and you should be proud of yourselves for enduring all the pain and endless hours of book-cracking. Going to school in Boston is definitely a unique experience that not many people get to see for themselves. You have branded Suffolk as your home and taken Boston in as your host. Now, all of you have earned the right to continue with the next phase of your lives. Some of you will continue with getting your masters, going to Grad school and then possibly going to Law school. In any case, you will all succeed and move on to bigger and better things. Having known some of you, I feel I am losing a big brother or a big sister. I want to thank you for helping me out my first couple of semesters here at Suffolk. You eased my pain and eased my anxiety about transitioning from one type of atmosphere to another. Again, I want to thank you all for everything you've done. I want to thank Tony Pallaria for helping me out and watching my back when I needed him most. You're the best! I also want to personally thank Larry Keegan for being the big brother I never had. You've helped me through so much from even before Suffolk. Good luck with life and the real world and don't stop being who you are. Again, congrats to the class of 2008. May the future bring success and happiness.

From the Editors...



To the 2008 Yearbook Staff,

This was the first time that we were able to put together a team for the yearbook and what a team it turned out to be! Throughout the year, you guys have worked so hard going to events, working with clubs and offices to bring back information. We were very impressed with our photographers who worked so hard to capture the essence of the moment. Overall, our staff has never worked as hard as they did the last couple months of this school year and for that, we are eternally grateful. We hope you guys learned some stuff from working with one another. We want you guys to know that you're welcome back anytime. We are completely satisfied with everything you've done and couldn't be happier with the results. We also want to thank our advisor Kate Schuit who whole-heartedly supported us in our edition this year. Having just started at Suffolk this past year, she has picked up quickly on our yearbook ways and was able to advise us like a pro. Thanks for everything Kate and we're so happy to be working with you. Last but not least, we want to congratulate Tifane Bryant, one of our cherished staff members on finally graduating from Suffolk. We hope you continue to pursue your dreams and it's been a pleasure working with someone as passionate and dedicated as you. Congrats on your graduation and we'll miss you!

Love,

Fatima & Gina

Message from the President

Congratulations to the Class of 2008, and best wishes for a successful future. You are now ready to commence a new stage of your lives, prepared to fulfill the considerable promise you have shown as members of our community of scholars. We are proud of the determination you've shown in pursuing your studies, and we look forward to seeing your accomplishments as time goes by. Whether you begin a career, enroll in graduate school, or take time for volunteer service, we are confident that your experiences at Suffolk University will inform and enhance the next step on your life's journey.

The faculty, staff, and administrators who have provided nurturing support to you during your time at the University have high hopes that you will apply your budding wisdom as a contributing member of a global society. In a world immersed in conflict, we need bright minds and strong hearts to sow the seeds of mutual understanding and cooperation.

As you graduate, you become one of more than 60,000 active University alumni. These men and women are leaders in public service, the sciences, business, the arts, education, and law. Many among you will become tomorrow's leaders, but it is important to remember that success cannot be measured by professional accomplishment alone. Remember also to seek fulfillment in the spheres of family, friendship, and community.

During your time here, the University has continued its evolution. Changes in curriculum and expanded program offerings reflect the latest thinking in higher education. We have more applicants every year, and our enrollment has had measured growth. To accommodate this growth and the demand for student housing, we have added a new residence hall and have devised a plan to house yet more students and expand other campus facilities. The new Mildred Sawyer Library opened in 2006, doubling the space of the old library and providing a warm and welcoming study and research environment. And we continue to take advantage of advances in technology that enhance learning opportunities both on and off campus.

I want to thank you for your dedication to learning during your time here at the University. Much was demanded of you, and you worked diligently to meet high standards. We appreciate that you took the quest for knowledge seriously, and now I am going to ask one more thing of you.

While you may be leaving day-to-day campus life, please think about beginning a new relationship with the Suffolk University community. We look to you alumni to help strengthen your University through gifts of time, talent, counsel, expertise, and financial resources. As you grow professionally, you may connect with a future Suffolk University student by providing an internship opportunity or serving as a mentor. We will always welcome today's graduates as partners with a University that for more than a century has been dedicated to students and their success. You have been an outstanding group of students, and we hope you will play a role in the future of this great institution.

Senior Breakfast

Senior Week

The Senior Week Committee has worked hard this year to put together an unforgettable week for its graduating seniors. With their final credits finally complete, the seniors of Suffolk University prepare for the next step of their journey. However, before they graduate and move on, they will have the chance to come together with their fellow classmates one last time and truly celebrate their success here at Suffolk. With the week starting off with an overnight trip to Mohegan Sun Casino, seniors continue to follow the week's activities including a day trip to Six Flags and Martha's Vineyard. Some seniors decided to purchase tickets to go on a more extreme adventure with their classmates. They got to experience the adrenaline rush that comes with White water rafting. After this trip, they brought it back where it all started; a night at the Red Hat to end the night in celebration. Following this week of exciting and restless fun, seniors were invited to attend the Senior Brunch and Alumni Induction celebration at the Marriott Long Warf. These seniors began the year with the bang and ended it in the same fashion.

Message from the SGA President

Four years ago, most of us were collectively gathered together at the Tremont Temple, to be welcomed into Suffolk University as freshman students. Today and tomorrow, we are and will all be together once again—with some new faces, some gone, and some reunited after years gone by. Regardless of when we entered Suffolk University, we are celebrating today for one purpose: to enter the world beyond and to begin our future endeavors.

Take a moment to look around and see who you are sitting next to. Think of your family and friends that are present today, or with you in spirit. Now, take a moment to realize that today and tomorrow are the last times that we will all be together. From here on out, we are each agents of our own future, ready to make choices and to direct our purposes in life. As harsh a reality as this may be, it should not be a point of sorrow, but rather, one of jubilee. We must bask in each other's company and we should remember these last days as not the point where we leave one another, but rather where we begin a timeless reflection of the events that have led up until this moment—events and memories that are bound to shape and mold our future accomplishments.

Surely, we have all reached a point of remarkable achievement. As we are inducted as the future alum of this University today, it is essential that we recognize how fortunate we are to have received a college education at this institution. With our degrees, some may go on to be educators, some may be CEO's, and some may be future leaders of the world. But your success should not be marked by the fame and titles you receive, but rather the personal standing you reach in yourself. A life spent in the limelight with no soul is a life that is meaningless, next to the least known man on earth who achieved great things based on the peace he has reached in reflecting on a life well spent.

As we leave here today and prepare for tomorrow, I ask all of you to think of at least one moment from this event and the past few weeks—no matter how fleeting—for only when we depart will we realize the importance of this time together. I ask you to reflect and thank all of your loved ones and families that are here today, or with you in spirit, as surely we would not be here without their support, love, and of course, patience.

As we near the end of this ceremony, I would like to wish all of you the best of luck with your paths and directions in life, as I am certain we will be the greatest products of this generation. Thank you for allowing me to speak to you today, and as some parting words, I would like to offer an old Irish Blessing— and I apologize to all of the Italians present here:

May you always have walls for the winds, a roof for the rain, tea beside the fire, laughter to cheer you, those you love near you, and all your heart might desire.

Commencement

Two years after the monumental centennial commencement, senior graduation is still as fulfilling and special. This year's commencement speaker for the Sawyer Business School and the College of Arts and Science was Pulitzer-Prize-winning journalist Carl Bernstein. Bernstein is most notable for uncovering the Watergate cover-up that led to the resignation of President Richard Nixon. Listing to Mr. Bernstein speak was an honor that many of the faculty and students appreciated and took to heart. As with every commencement, President Sargent addressed the 2008 senior class and spoke of their endless list of accomplishments. During this year's ceremony, Carl Bernstein was awarded an honorary degree, along with award-winning author Maxine Hong Kingston. Vivian Pinn, Director of the Office of Research on Women's Health and Joseph P. Campanelli, President and CEO of Sovereign Bancorp Inc. also received honorary degrees during the celebration. It seemed only like yesterday when these classmates entered their classrooms in September, waiting anxiously for the year to end. But here they are now; far beyond that point. May the future hold bigger success.

Fall Fest

Eat your heart out James Bond, this year Fall Fest 007 celebrated the super spy in style. With tuxedos pressed and hair primped, students and parents alike were treated to Bond themed medleys and even an over the top performance of Queen's "Somebody to Love" by this years ensemble cast.

Presented by the Performing Arts Office every year during Family Weekend, Fall Fest is Suffolk's very own variety show featuring show stopping ensemble numbers and talented student performers.

Individual student performances included a cello solo by Adam Harrington, a monologue by Gustave Cadet and the Rolling Stones "Angie" performed by Matt Naccarato-Garufi.

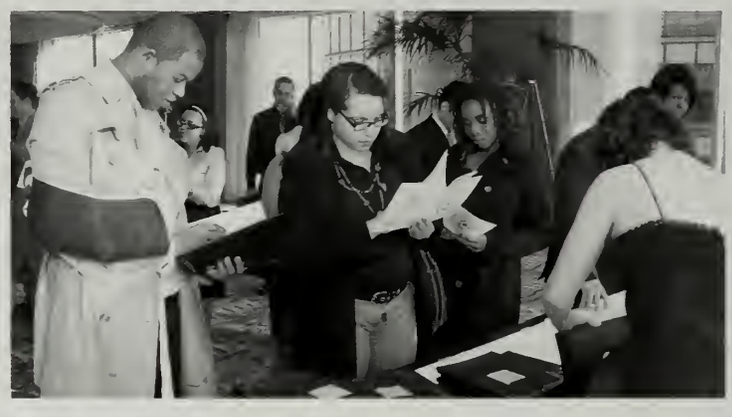
Nuestra Cultura

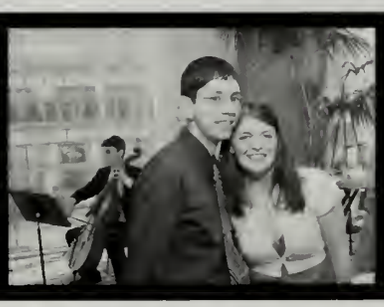
A mix of traditional Hispanic culture and modern culture, SUHA's annual culture show displayed talents of Suffolk students and professional Flamenco artists. Hosted by members of the organization, Nuestra Cultura attracted an audience of different backgrounds. The Parade of Flags served as a show opener displaying flags of every Hispanic country and ending with the display of the American flag. The modern sounds put forth by SUHA's president Francisco Peguero accentuated the more traditional Hispanic sounds of the annual Flamenco dancer. To finish off the perfect night, viewers of the show were invited to a special Hispanic oriented dinner at the Donahue Café, where dancing and conversation rolled out into the night.

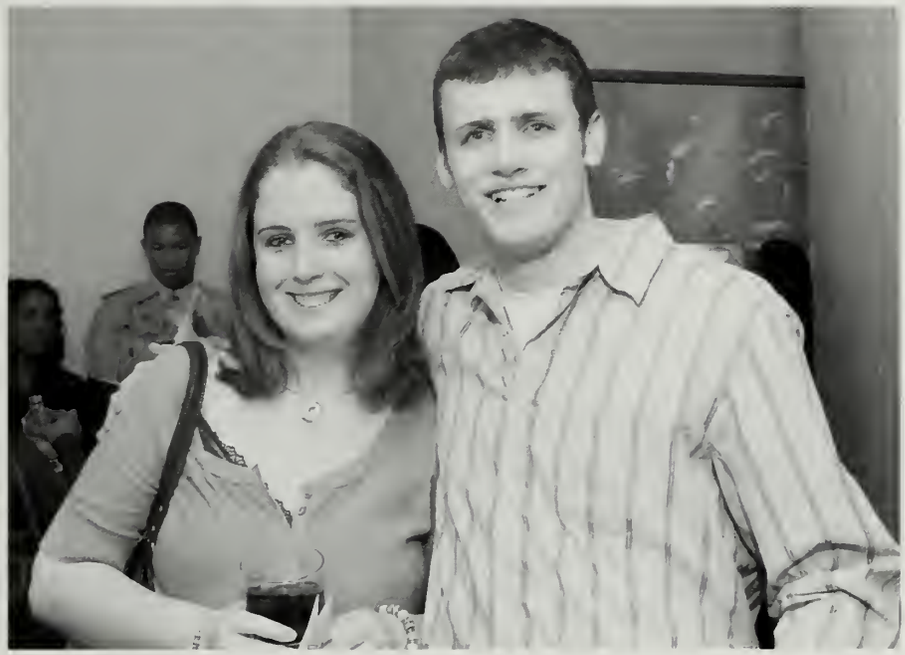
Leadership Awards

The Student Leadership Awards bring forth the most outstanding student and faculty leaders of this year. With nominations flowing in prior to the award's ceremony, students went around campus, hoping to secure much-deserved votes from their fellow classmates. This year's Award Ceremony was held at the exquisite and newly built Renaissance Seaport Hotel.

Student's from each class were awarded "Outstanding" awards for displaying leadership qualities and dedication to co-curricular activities throughout his/her academic career and has gone above and beyond the call of duty. Faculty members were also awarded recognition for exhibiting exemplary teaching skills and displayed outstanding service to students beyond the scope of the classroom. Organizations, programs and athletes were also given the spotlight for their outstanding achievements.







Soul Food Luncheon

Hosted by Suffolk's own Black Student Union, this year's food luncheon featured food to cleanse and satisfy the soul. Members of BSU took their places behind the serving tables , ladles in hand and smiles on their faces before getting ready to serve the members of the Suffolk community. Among those who attended were staff members of the Student Activities Office and advisors of the Suffolk organizations. As is the case every year, those who came with an empty stomach to the student lounge area in Donahue always left with a full stomach and much appreciation for the generosity of the BSU organization.

Drag Show

October is home to one of the PAO's most beloved Common Grounds Coffee Houses: The Drag Show. This year's show came with a twist as students and even a professor joined Crystal Crawford's gang of drag queens and kings on stage. For these new comers, it may have well been the experience of a lifetime. Powerful songs, hilarious moments, and risqué dances lead to an unbelievably enjoyable night had by all! This year was one of the best performances for the Suffolk community because it involved the general community, teaching them what it meant to be a drag king or queen. The 3 workshops that lead up to the final show taught movement, performance, and hair & make-up, showing that there is more to going drag then just dressing the opposite gender's clothing. We can only wait and see what will be done next with this great show!

Winter Involvement Fair

The Winter Involvement Fair is an annual event featuring a showcase of clubs and organizations, live stu dent performances, free food from local vendors and lots of free stuff! Located in the Ridgeway gym, this is a cozzy way the kick of the semester, make new friends and catch up with those just getting back from vacation. This gives new and returning Suffolk students the opportunity to get warm and get involved. Free pizza, soda, cookies, and lots of free goodies... what more can a college student ask for? Our school mascot...the RAM even comes out to represent, while the SU Cheerleaders show their school spirit! Creative activities and many attractions makes this a popular event. Faculty and students get to mingle while enjoying the diverse community here at Suffolk.

Stepping From the Roots

Originating in Fraternities who used to sing Acappella, stepping has become a world-wide activity popular amongst young men and women. Stepping From the Roots, hosted and produced by the Suffolk Step Team was a competition between four high school step teams and four college step teams. Boston Trinity Academy's "Real" step team opened up the competition as Waltham's "Tiyabi" step team wowed the audience with their unique use of red umbrellas. Efe Osifo and Laura Picardo, two of the hosts for the night introduced the United Roots Dance Team who left the audience in applause with their breaking and unique sense of hip hop dance. The night closed with the college sector of the show which included Boston University, Bently College, South Connecticut State and Lasalle College. To those who thought stepping is just clapping and stomping, they were in for a surprise with the exceptional variety of chants and movements.

Spirit of Boston

Family Weekend, held on October 12th through 14th is the annual event that new and returning Suffolk students, staff and faculty attend with their families. The weekend was kicked off by the Theatre Department's One-Act Play festival in the Studio Theatre and also with Fall Fest '007: Suffolk celebrates the Super Spy. This is Suffolk's annual variety show that included musical acts performed by Suffolk students. In addition to Fall Fest, the weekend included Boston Duck Tours, Boston-area walking tours, Tours of the Sawyer Library, and more. Saturday's Taste of Boston was a sold out luncheon sponsored by Program Council. Saturday afternoon there was also a dessert reception, a study-abroad information session and a reception for student leaders that included alumni of the university that were involved on campus when they attended Suffolk.

The signature event of the weekend was a dinner dance cruise aboard the Spirit of Boston, sailing out on Boston harbor. Over 500 members of the Suffolk community came together for a night of dancing, good food and fun! Overall, the weekend was a huge success and there was something for everyone. Family Weekend continues to have sold out events and bring more and more people to campus each year. We hope to see you there next year!

Winter Ball

A ball to celebrate winter turned out to be an unforgettable night at the end of the year 2007. The special occasion was held at the glamorous Seaport Hotel. The night started out with a socializing cocktail hour. There were special appetizers consisting of fresh bread and different types of dips. Then the magic night began. The big doors opened to a huge ballroom filled with set tables, an inviting dance floor and food bars all around. Everyone enjoyed a dinner and set for everyone's preferences. For the vegetarians there was great pasta and for everyone else there was turkey or ham with a green leaf salad. After the delicious dinner the dancing began. First just a few brave girls came out and pulled everyone out on the dance floor. The flashes started flashing to remember the memories of the dancing. It went on all night and went right through desert. Some took a break to enjoy the appetizing pastries and ended their night a smile on and some good memories.

Service Day

The S.O.U.L.S. Community Service and Service Learning Center held its eleventh annual Service Day and Celebration Dinner. Members of the Suffolk community volunteered for two-hour shifts at agencies throughout the local Boston area. Following Service Day, the S.O.U.L.S. office hosted the annual Service Day Celebration Dinner & Silent Auction at the Holiday Inn. This dinner recognized the whole year of service with a focus on our volunteers and our partnerships with community based organizations. For those who volunteered, they shared the dignified sensation of having helped those who are less fortunate. Once again, the Suffolk Community has stepped up to make this year's Service Day one to remember.

Fahrenheit

Collaborating with the Asian American Association, SU Hispanic Association and the Student Activities Office, the Vietnamese Student Association hosted this year's Fahrenheit show with a mix of Vietnamese culture and comedy. Katie Tran opened up the night with her song "Huong Toc Ma Non", giving the audience a taste of things to come. The second act, "Beauty and the Geek" was Suffolk's own adaptation of the popular TV show and ran throughout the entire show. Once again, tradition and modernity collide when Betty Chen, Tien Nguyen and Christy Tran took the stage in a traditional Vietnamese dance along with The Golden Boys lit up the stage with their own segment of break dancing. The fashion show covered clothing from the Vietnamese world as well as formal attire worn by both the men and women of Suffolk. Tony Hui's closing act hyped up the audience with his song "We're All in This Together" which brought all the participants of the Fahrenheit show to the stage.

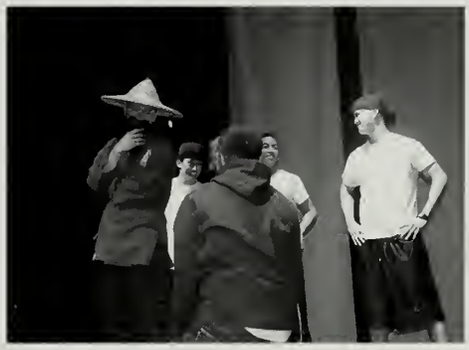
Super Stars

Whether you're Chinese, Vietnamese or Korean, the Super Stars show combined all these Asian cultures and molded one extraordinary yet elegant show featuring the famous lion dance and the in-style fashion show of mixed attire. Members of the Asian community at Suffolk joined forces to host for the open public, a show that would bring together their talents and year-long hard work. The highly anticipated fashion show stunned the audience as the models strutted their stuff on the runway stage. A loved member of the Suffolk community, Tony Hui took the mic to liven up the mood. The hidden talents of unique Suffolk students emerged that night to leave a mark in this year's top of the year events.



Holiday Concert

This year's Performing Arts Concert was a great way to begin the holiday. Hosts of the evening were Mitch Manning and Julia Gustafon, members of the award winning improv comedy troupe, Seriously Bent. Suffolk University's acapella group, The Ramifications, started the show with their newest arrangement "Ready To Go," and the ever-popular jazzy version of "Joy To The World." The Dance Company followed with their sassy rendition of "Hot Stuff" and "Summer of `69". The Vocal Ensemble also performed many Holiday Songs, most notably, "O Happy Day." The Jazz Ensemble had a stunning performance with their four pieces including, "Moanin'" and "Old Country" accompanied by Christina Watka. Last, but certainly not least, Seriously Bent shared with us their side-splitting improv sketches. All performances were full of energy and holiday cheer that gave the audience something to clap about!

Alt. Spring Break

The Alternative Spring Break trip kicked off its first year in 1998 with 12 students and the program has continued to grow with nearly 40 students, faculty and staff participating each Spring Break! Suffolk recruited student leaders through the S.O.U.L.S. Community Service and Service Learning Center and in particular, recruited those who have this sort of experience and motivation. This years participants headed to work with Habitat for Humanities in El Paso, TX and Community Collaborations in Waveland, MS to volunteer in communities that were affected by poverty and natural disaster. The Suffolk volunteers participated in diverse reconstruction and volunteer support activities including; debris removal, tree removal, construction, sheetrock hanging, painting, building repairs, floor installation, window installation, organizing donated items, and preparing meals.

Exonerated

The Pioneer Performance Series allows Suffolk students the opportunity to work with groundbreaking and innovative material from provocative new (and occasionally cult classic) playwrights and composers.

The Exonerated was originally staged at the Los Angeles Actor's Gang Theatre in Spring 2002. Pulled together from interviews, case files, letters, transcripts, and public records, the Exonerated tells the stories of six people who were sentenced to death for crimes they did not commit. Going between scenes set in prisons and courtrooms to the first person monologues, the six stories show a picture of the American Criminal Justice system gone wrong.

Directed by Kristin Baker of the Performing Arts Office, the cast featured students, faculty and staff from the colleges and Law School. The series also featured three lecture/discussions aimed at providing an opportunity to initiate a dialog among the Suffolk community about the various topics and issues raised. The lecture featured Dennis Maher and Bernard Baran along with the founder and director of the New England Innocence Project. Post show discussions included a professional panel on Thursday night and the entire cast participating in a panel on Saturday night.

Recognition Day

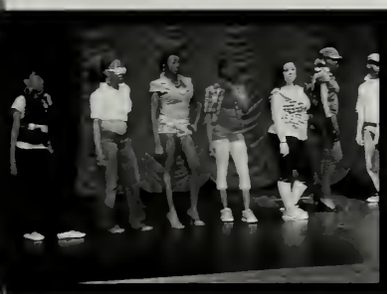
The annual Recognition Day program recognizes hundreds of academic award winners, honor society inductees and student organization leaders for their participation and achievement over the past year.

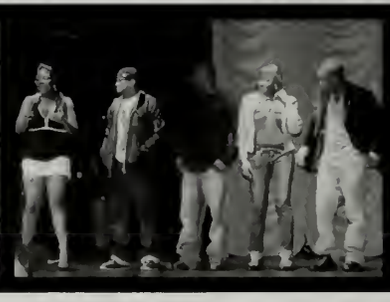
With over 600 students recognized annually, it is Suffolk's way of celebrating success both inside and outside the classroom. With opening remarks by President David Sargent, it was an event that students could remember as part of their Suffolk experience for a long time.

Honoring those who have made a difference is Suffolk's way of saying thank you for dedicating yourselves and contributing to the Suffolk Community.

The Radio Dial

Fashion, dance, performances and contests and prizes set the stage for the 19th annual fashion show hosted by the Caribbean Student Network. Sabina Michel, president of CSN worked with members of the Suffolk organizations to put together a unique but top notch show. Takeover Sound sounded the stage and theater with the latest and modern hip hop sounds. Hosted by Rachelle Biton and Ruben Telfort, The Radio Dial first presented the Hollywood Glamour segment with upscale club wear. Between acts, Waltham High School's step team TIYADI and DA Buck Squad took the stage to rock the floor. Models strut their stuff in swimwear, 90's fashion, tuxedos and spring fling attire. The Battle of the Nations dance contest appealed to outgoing audience members before the closing Carnival act ended a night of glamour and first-class fashion.





The Radio Dial

Dinner Theatre

This year's Dinner Theatre was a great show with a great turn out. Probably because you can't have a theme like "Murder on the Campaign Trail" coupled with a delicious dinner and not expect to draw big crowds!

The murder of fictional presidential candidate Granville Powell set the stage for audience involvement in determining whodunit. Was it his intern? Or worse, his wife? Stellar student performances brought this show to life. Join us again next year for what's sure to be another great dinner theater performance.

Battling to the Semi Finals

The men's soccer came so close this season to reaching the finals in the GNAC playoffs until running into the No.1 seed Norwich and losing 5-1 in the semi finals. They finished 5th in the GNAC in the regular season with a 5-5 record, finishing 9-7 overall. The team was inconsistent but still showed some signs of becoming dominant in the GNAC. Head Coach Nick Papadopoulos has plenty of depth and with only 4 seniors graduating, the Rams could become a top tier team in the league.

Women's Soccer

The women's soccer played their inaugural varsity season in the GNAC. They finished 2-11 which makes captains Meghann Benesh and Kalli MacKinnon upset and motivated to play better in their second season. The highlight of the season was when Junior Kaley Moore got the 1st hat trick in Rams history and Meghan McDonald recorded the first shutout in history while wrapping up their first victory as a varsity squad in a 4-0 win against Pine Manor. There is light at the end of the tunnel though with everybody returning next season, the Rams should have all those first season jitters out of their system and perform better.

Women's Basketball

Defense wins championships.

That's how the saying goes and the Suffolk Lady Rams were the best this season in defense only allowing 53.6 points per game this season. They finished the regular season 2nd best in the GNAC and were one of the favorites and made it to the finals where they were beaten by Emmanuel, 70-51. With four seniors graduating it will be interesting to see what the Lady Rams will do next season but as long as the GNAC Coach of the Year Ed Leyden, the team should be set for another run.

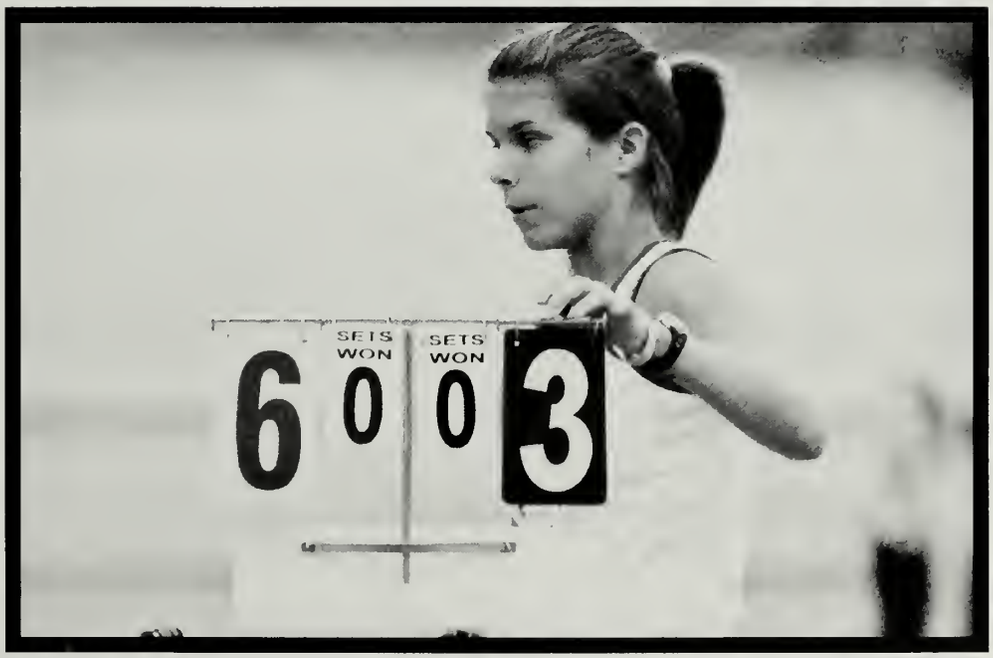
The women's tennis squad dominated the 2007 season by going undefeated with a 14-0 record and capturing the GNAC crown as the No. 1 seed in the tournament. The three seniors Jen Nelson, Laila Bdour, and Jenna Pecoraro led the way in the division tournament past Emmanuel and Simmons with scores of 8-1 and 5-4 respectively. After a home victory against Regis, the lady Rams shown their dominance on the road by beating Emmanuel, Albertus Magnus, Wentworth, and Johnson & Wales, losing only 9 matches during the stretch. Congratulations once again to the Lady Rams for a very successful 2007 season!



Women's Volleyball

The women's volleyball squad had a tough go this season with a 3-19 record 12th in the GNAC. The two seniors, Kristen Conrad and Noel Moran led the team to the best of their abilities and led them to winning 3 out of 4 games nearing the end of September but the schedule got to them as facing fierce competition for Emerson and Mount Ida to name a few teams. The team has plenty to look forward in the coming years as the team consists of freshman and sophomores. They gained valuable playing experience and will surely want to improve there standing in the GNAC. Things surely look up for the volleyball squad.

The Men's Suffolk Basketball squa had a tough go at it this year. They finished with a record of 4-21 and 3-15 in the GNAC conference, ranking 10th out of 11 teams. While sophomore Alan Jaziri and Junior Brian Small combined for 28.3 poir pergame, it wasn't enough to carry the team throughout the year. How ever, they did finish strong winning their final two games against Norwich and Albertus Magnus. With the freshman gaining experience this year and Small not wanting to repeat this year, the basketball tea has a chance for something big ne season.

The men's hockey team was a surprise this year going 13-14 and 5-4 in the ECAC Northeast Division. The 13 wins equaled the amount they won the previous two seasons combined. Coach Chris Glionna also led them to their 1st ever playoff victory, 3-2 in overtime against Wentworth. While they lost their next game against Nichols and thus ended the season, there's still big things coming as only 3 seniors are graduating. Senior Dan Pencinger finished his career with 114 points in only 80 games played and earned ECAC All Star Honors. Freshman Jeff Rose also received ECAC honors going 13-13 with a .914 save percentage and a 3.12 goals against average while starting all but one game in net for the Rams. Hopefully next year, our chances of a division titles will be bigger than any other season in Suffolk history.

Laura Vicent

LAURA CONGRATULATIONS!!!

On May 18, 2008, it will be a new and nice date to remember in your still young memory, will be, if God wants, the date of your graduation. With it, you put end to the infancy and also to the adolescence, and this makes an excellent moment to do balance and to say to you something, which not for obvious, we are going to stop doing, mom and I, and is an important moment for all. We are very proud of you, so much for having had the necessary responsibility and affectionate daughter with the great and solid values which we have tried to inculcate you some cases and which you by yourself have been acquiring in others, this fulfills is us with happiness, gives meaning to our lives. Now you were initiating a new race, that of the life, and believe me, you are totally prepared to confront it by VERY HIGH note, always hopefully with safety and good attitude. Undoubtedly, you will find obstacles in the way you have forged during all these years without knowing very well in order the meaning of what you were doing. Now suddenly as if about magic it was treating itself as of everything fits and makes a special sense. Also, for all the same motives, you will now how to extract the best if life, This it is, not you case, and this will permit you to have a good emotional balance between your intellectual, professional, and familiar affective development. Finally, you will always have YOUR FAMILY supporting you Laura thank you very much for being our daughter and making ourselves live through such happiness and a nice moment.

WE LOVE YOU, MUCHO KISSES!

Antonio and MaCarmen

Laura, since I have known you, I have admired you as a friend, as a person and mow much more as a companion, but is with these degrees that you obtain in your life, when you make me feel total admiration towards you, Congratulations, here you have me for what you need in your new stage that begins now.

Dawn, you are finished with your fomal education; however, you will never stop learning as you step into the promising future that lies before you. You have the courage and ambition that will take you anywhere in life that you may choose. Never put limits on yourself and keep striving toward your goals. Success and happiness will follow you always. Let patience, persistence and perserverance lead you and you can coomplish anything you set your mind to. Congratulations Dawn. I'm so proud of you and best wishes in everything you do! I love you with all my heart!!

Always, Mom

You have been my pride and joy since July 24, 1986. You have never ceased to amaze me with your intelligence, talent and humor. This photo is a reminder of how you have always overcome any obstacle to attain your goals right from the beginning of your life. Amongst all your many, many achievements, this degree is yet another one which I hope makes you as proud as I am. You deserve everything you hope for and more. This is my wish for you.

Love forever, Mom

Jhaime Dye

This page is dedicated to my boy, an amazing young man who had such a positive impact on so many lives during his time at Suffolk. Jhaime grew up on the shores of Rye New Hampshire, skim boarding and ocean kayaking were just a few of his favorite activities. He also had a deep passion for soccer and loved snowboarding.

His smile in the photos were received from Jhaime's freshman year at Suffolk are a testimony to the happiness you all brought him. If you close your eyes you can still hear that contagious laugh that would demand the attention of everyone in the room. The beauty of his spirit continues to live on in our minds and hearts. Our deepest and most sincere thanks to all of the staff and students who shared and participated in what was the best year of Jhaime's life.

Deborah C.A. Levison

Debbie querida,

Tudo passou tão rápidamente... e você já está terminando a faculdade! O mundo começa a se abrir para você, e você agora sai para seu vôo solo. Que você possa sempre voar sob céu azul e que os pousos sejam sempre feitos em solo firme e seguro. Nós estaremos sempre observando, ainda que à distância, todos os seus vôos, torcendo para você, com as mãos sempre estendidas e o coração cheio de amor. Você elegeu uma carreira num mundo repleto de cores e formas, o mundo das artes, e nós queremos que essas cores sejam sempre alegres e vibrantes. Estamos muito orgulhosos de você. Vemos nossa meninha tornar-se uma mulher de carater firme e valores sólidos, uma verdadeira contribuição para nossa sociedade. Que Deus a mantenha sempre assim, linda no exterior e maravilhosa internamente!

Nós a amamos intensamente,

Nosso beijo carinhoso,

Mamãe e Papai.

P.S. Vovó manda uma beijoca para "Minha Fofinha", e a Barbie manda um narizinho molhado na buchecha.

Christopher M. Adamson

Christopher,

Run to your dreams, every one you wish
for it is possible for you to achieve them.
Run, with your ever present sense of adventure,
and passion.
Reach for them, with your strong and capable hands.
Never let them go.
Your intelligence and percevierance will take you far.
Look how far you've come.
Take with you always, that brilliant smile.
it draws everyone in, lucky enough to be in your presence.
Give it freely, feel it fully, laugh often.
Keep your sense of curiosity, and your burning desire to learn.
Never forget, that is who you are.
Honor your spirit within.
Run to your future, knowing that your dreams are yours for the taking-but never forget where you came from.
Home is where your heart is.
May you always be there, wherever you are.
I was proud of my baby, my little boy, my adolesent son.
Now, I am so very proud of the man you have become.
Congratulations Honey, on this milestone in your life.
On to the next!

Love, Mom

As always this is just another achievement you have accomplished. There will be many more for you, I'm sure. I will always respect you, and love you, for the rest of my life.

Your loving Father

Aaron K. Beers

Aaron,

It's not that big of a surprise to the people who love you, that you have passed this stage of your young life with such success. I think we all knew that your personality would take you far. You were the kind of kid that people would have to visit to calm their kids down. Sloppy eating habits aside, you were and still are a joy to have around.

What we didn't expect was your fight and determination to complete a task such as a four year degree at a great school. There is no doubt in our minds that you will go forward in life with same gusto and drive to excel in the real world. Whether it's being the best at your job, or being the best parent, you have set the foundation for greatness in any area of life.

We, as your parents and grandparents, are very proud.

Great Job and Congrats,

Dad, Van, Gram and Gramps

We love you,

Mom, Helmut and Justin along with all your family and friends

Lieber Aaron,
Da du jetzt bereit bist deinen beruflichen Werdegang aufzunehmen, wünschen wir dir die Herzlichsten Glückwünsche und möge dir das Studium das Wissen vermittelt haben die Dinge zu ändern die du ändern kannst ,die Gelassenheit Dinge hinzunehmen die nicht zu ändern sind, vor allem aber die Weissheit diese beiden Dinge zu unterscheiden.
